WINTER MEETINGS

Board Prohibits the Service of Associations All Over City to Take Up Civic Improvement Questions of the Hour.

With the coming of autumn the neetings of the Washington citizens' associations are resumed. They are being held this week in various sections of the city. The first work to be taken up will be the making of recommendations for improvements to the Commissioners for the purpose of having these officials include them in their estimates to be sent to Congress. Citizens of the northeast section already have made their recommendations, and this evening the Midcity Citizens' Association will hold a meeting for the same purpose.

The amendment becomes effective October 16, and the board has been sending answers to bank directors all over the country, including those of Washington banks and trust companies.

Generally speaking, as already stated, directors, officers and employes of institutions within the area mentioned are forbidden from serving more than one banking concern in the same capacity.

Capt. Potter also presented a resolution favoring the adoption of a universal transfer system. He offered the resolution, he said, following a talk with Mr. Clayton about the inconvenience experienced because of a lack of proper transfer facilities. His resolution was adopted. On motion of Dr. Emmons, the association reaffirmed its stand in the matter of the personnel of the public utilities commission. The Commissioners, he stated, have more business than they can properly transact and are unable to give the amount of time required to look after the public utilities.

Another item asks for the improvement of Potomac avenue from 8th to 13th street southeast, it being stated that the avenue is used by many persons employed in the navy yard and that it is in very bad condition, portions of it being without a sidewalk, curbing or proper lighting.

The improvement of Kentucky avenue from Pennsylvania to South Carolina avenue, and 15th street southeast from Pennsylvania avenue to E street is asked, and the committee suggested the improvement of 17th street for the benefit of persons who visit Congressional cemetery.

The committee asked that the attention of the Commissioners be directed to the granite block pavement on 11th street southeast between G and K streets. It was stated that the noise made by vehicles passing over the stones disturbs the pupils attending Wilson Memorial Church.
